

1:1s in Turbulent Times

It's gotten pretty wild out in the world these past few weeks and I want to make sure we're using our 1:1s in the most helpful ways possible. Fill this out before we meet next and we'll walk through it together.

What are 1-2 words that describe your perspective of work this week?

(i.e. overwhelming, a welcome distraction, productive, etc.)

What's your biggest concern outside of work right now? How can I help?

What's your biggest concern at work right now? How can I help?

Is there anything at work that you need clarity on?

Do you need help prioritizing or figuring out what to focus on?

What else should we be talking about today?
